AGONY.

The music ceased, the curtain rose. I did not heed the play. But gazed upon her lovely face— She sat two seats away. Her cheeks like tinted apple bloom. Her teeth like gleaming pearls. Her eyes as blue as summer skies. A wealth of golden curls.

And as I gazed upon her face There came a look of pain. Like cloudy shadow over the land It passed, then came again. I saw the teardrops in her eyes. The rose tint fade away. And that fair cheek grew deathly pale In speechless agony.

She turned and touched her escort's arm. Then slowly went away. My heart beat fast with sympathy. I did not heed the play. Her eyes returned and took his seat. I gazed in surprise. Her eyes as blue as summer skies. Her eyes as blue as summer skies. Her eyes as blue as summer skies.

And as the music died away I gazed upon her face. "My sister's feet are number five. Her shoes are number four." —Boston Globe.

Crosses.

"You will not find one woman in a hundred who is familiar with the rules of heraldry," said a fashionable stationer. "Ladies insist on having crests embossed on their visiting paper, even when I tell them that they are permitted by the usages of centuries to use only the arms. A handsome woman came in the store one day and said, 'Mr. B., I wish you would put a crest and arms on my paper.' I knew it would be useless to argue about the crest, and so I asked her, 'Have you any crest with you?' 'Oh, no! I haven't any,' she answered. 'You can make a nice one, can't you?' I learned that her husband was a grain dealer, so for a crest I designed a sheaf of wheat. For the arms I designed some hawk heads on a shield, and she was delighted."

Women who are interested in these things should observe the regulations set down for the use of spinners, married women and widows. A specified frame for the arms should be used by each. The spinner is required to put her family arms into a diamond frame, with very simple adornment. When a woman marries, the arms of her family must be put on the same shield with the arms of her husband. The shield is impaled, the wife's arms occupying one position and the husband's the other. If she becomes a widow, the frame for her arms again assumes the form of a diamond, symbolizing her unmarried state, while her arms and the arms of her deceased husband remain impaled as formerly. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

Trees are felled by electricity in the great forests of Galicia. For cutting comparatively soft woods the tool is in the form of an auger, which is mounted on a carriage, and is moved to and fro and revolved at the same time by a small electric motor. As the cut deepens, wedges are inserted to prevent the rift from closing, and when the tree is nearly cut through an ax or handsaw is used to finish the work. In this way trees are felled very rapidly and with but little labor. —London Tit-Bits.

Growth of the English Language. In the year 1784 the habitual users of the English language did not number over 15,000,000; in 1892, 103,000,000. If these figures are correct (and they are from a recognized authority), by the end of the present century not less than 120,000,000 people will use the language in their everyday conversation. If the same ratio of increase holds good, English will be spoken by at least 840,000,000 of people in the year 2000. —St. Louis Republic.

One Child's Vocabulary. The statement that a child 5½ years of age would not have more than 150 words in its vocabulary that it was able to use understandingly led a careful mother to note for a month the number of words used by her child. All the parts of speech used were recorded, with the result that in this case the child appeared to have a vocabulary of 1,328 words. —New York Post.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congressional Committee is not so sanguine of electing a majority of the next House of Representatives as some members of the party who know much less of the situation. In an interview with the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune he says:

At present there are twenty-five States that have been apportioned by the Democrats and eleven by the Republicans. The others elect at large, having only one or two members each. The vote that elected Harrison President in 1888, gave the Republicans only three majority in the House, and the same vote to-day would give the Democrats twelve majority.

The Democrats have 120 members and the Republicans seven from the South. The Democrats have 99 members and the Republicans 120 from the North. To secure a majority the Republicans must elect 173 members out of 229 districts or 75 per cent of the members in the twenty-eight Eastern, Western and Northern States.

Chairman Babcock believes that the control of the next Congress will practically determine the Presidential election in 1896. He thinks there is a strong probability that neither of the old parties will have a majority of the Presidential electors. This will throw the election into the House. In that case Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Washington and Wyoming will have as much voice in electing the President as New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Illinois. Each State will have but one vote and a majority of the States elect the President.

This shows the importance of electing men who are unequivocally in favor of free coinage to the next Congress. It is very improbable that either of the old parties will control a majority of the States in the House of Representatives, and with free coinage men holding the balance of power, the election of a President favorable to silver would be almost assured. With such possibilities the absurdity of electing a Congressman from Nevada who would be bound by a caucus dominated by Reed, Burrows & Co., must be apparent to every intelligent person in the State. Nevada should have a Congressman who will take advantage of every opportunity that offers itself to further the cause of free coinage independent of the decrees of Republican and Democratic caucuses, and regardless of consequences to those parties.

DOUBLE-BARRELED POLITICIANS.

The Oregon Democratic State Convention met at Astoria and nominated W. H. Galloway for Governor, J. K. Weatherford for Congressman in the First District and J. H. Baley for Congressman in the Second District.

The platform endorses Cleveland's administration, favors an income tax, the construction of the Nicaragua Canal, liberal pensions to soldiers, the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, opposes Chinese and pauper immigration and demands the free coinage of silver. The framers of this platform evidently read with profit the speeches delivered at the Reno Opera House, when the Midwinter campaign was opened with the delusive hope that Senator Jones would be impressed with the demonstration. They declare in one breath that Oregon Democrats endorse the administration of President Cleveland and in another hysterically demand the free coinage of silver. For glaring hypocrisy this equals the very best efforts of the Nevada Midwinter campaign orators. The Nevadans declared that the way to secure free coinage is to vote for a party that is opposed to it, and the Oregonians demand the free coinage of silver and endorse the administration of Cleveland, which is remarkable only for its hostility to silver.

This double-barreled political system must be based upon the theory that a majority of the people are fools. Nevada Republican leaders think they can delude enough voters in the State to elect them to office by declaring for free coinage, in the face of the fact that nine-tenths of the Republicans in Congress are against it, and Oregon Democrats think they can gain votes by declaring for free coinage while endorsing an administration that is opposed to it. The ensuing election will doubtless convince Oregon Democrats and Nevada Republicans of the truth of Lincoln's saying that "you cannot fool all the people all the time."

CALIFORNIA'S SECOND INDUSTRIAL CONTINGENT.

The second contingent of California industrials has left Oakland in twenty-six box cars provided by the Southern Pacific Company. The regiment consists of 500 men, mostly mechanics, who have been unable to find employment on the Pacific Coast. Many of them were induced to visit California by the hope that they could get work at the Midwinter Fair. They left their homes and families in the East and being disappointed in their expectation of getting employment found themselves penniless in San Francisco. The city authorities made arrangements for transporting them East, paying $100 per car to Chicago, but the men will have to depend upon the generosity of the people of the towns through which they pass for provisions. To save the Utah authorities the expense of ordering out the militia and transporting artillery from Salt Lake to Ogden to prevent the sacred soil of Mormondom from being desecrated by men out of employment, the regiment will be sent to Mohave and thence east on the Atlantic and Pacific.

This exodus of able-bodied and industrious men from a State which maintains an immigration bureau and which has spent thousand of dollars to induce persons in search of homes or employment to emigrate thither with the assurance of finding both, gives an idea of the paralyzing effect of the demonetization of silver and the determination of the gold trust to prevent the Government coining or issuing money.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senator Morrill Speaks on the Tariff—The House in Committee of the Whole.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—In the Senate Senator Caffrey of Kentucky, denied that he was an obstructionist and not in harmony with his party. He should, he said, actively support and vote for the tariff bill as amended by the Senate Finance Committee. Commander E. W. Dickens, U. S. Navy, who attended the Duke of Veragua as a representative of the nation when that nobleman visited the World's Fair, was granted permission to accept the Cross of Naval Merit of the third class from the King of Spain.

Senator Peffer's resolution for a select committee to receive petitions from Coxey went over for a day.

Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire gave notice that he would speak on the tariff on Friday, and Senator Palmer will speak on Tuesday.

The venerable Senator Morrill of Vermont, who recently celebrated his 84th birthday and who is the Nestor of the Senate, was recognized and was accorded more respectful attention than has fallen to the lot of most speakers on the tariff question. In spite of his advanced age he spoke clearly, though evidently suffering somewhat from a cold.

In the House before the journal was approved, Burrows called attention to the fact that Wheeler (Ala.) who spoke exactly one minute on the new quorum counting rule, had printed in the Record, contrary to an expressed provision of the House, a speech which occupied four columns. As Wheeler was not present it was decided to allow the matter to go over until he could speak for himself.

Dunphy of New York asked unanimous consent for consideration of the New York and New Jersey bill.

Kilgore of Texas stated rather sarcastically that as the house now had rules by which it could transact business, he could not agree to any request for unanimous consent, and demanded the regular order, which was equivalent to an objection.

After a call on committees for reports the House went into the Committee of the Whole, for further consideration of the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill.

BRECKENRIDGE IN CONGRESS.

Petitions Constantly Received Asking for His Expulsion.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The feeling among the leading members of the House of Representatives is that no action could be taken concerning the Breckenridge scandal, although one of the best lawyers in the House said that the Constitution gave ample authority. Precedents cited, however, deal almost exclusively with offenses of a personal nature committed on the floor of the House, as, for instance, in the case of Brooks, who was expelled for assaulting Charles Sumner with a cane. There appears to be a lack of precedents in offenses committed outside of Congress. Some of the members interviewed declare that no action can be taken on the numerous petitions which are said to be on their way to the House demanding the expulsion of Breckenridge. These members affirmed that Breckenridge was only answerable to his constituents, but the burden of Congressional opinion is against this view, though it is pretty generally admitted that no action on the petitions will be taken further than allowing them all to be read.

RENO'S INDUSTRIAL ARMY. It Arrives Seventy-Five Strong at Cheyenne.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 18.—The Reno, Nev., contingent of the Western branch of the Commonweal Army arrived here this afternoon. There were seventy-five men in a Union Pacific refrigerator car, under the command of Captain Gorman. He stated that he hoped to join General Kelley's command before it reached Washington. The men did not leave their car at this place. It was attached to an Eastern through freight, which left for Omaha at 5 o'clock this evening.

A Pioneer Gone.

Joseph DeBell, a Nevada pioneer and for several years a resident of Reno, died in Oakland, California, Tuesday evening after a lingering illness. Mr. DeBell, in his early life, was a prominent member of the Masonic Fraternity and Grand Master of the Nevada jurisdiction. He was one the kindest men, and from a long, useful and exemplary life passed over to the silent majority respected by all. He leaves a wife and one daughter to mourn his loss.

Our goldbug contemporary says the White Pine News has gone back to the Republican party. As the News of last Saturday publishes a column and a half speech of Senator Stewart approvingly it furnishes the best possible evidence that the Goldbug Company is mistaken or intentionally misrepresents the News.

Admiral Benham has arrived in New York from Brazilian waters.

The town of Jerome, the largest mining camp in Arizona, was burned night before last.

W. A. Sanders of Fresno has been charged with the murder of Major Wootton, who mysteriously disappeared a short time ago.

Senator Vance was buried yesterday at Asheville, N. C. More than ten thousand people followed the procession to the grave.

Two strikers were arrested at Cannelville yesterday by armed deputies and warrants have been issued for thirty others who are in hiding.

A battle took place at Detroit yesterday between Polish strikers and the Water Board. One man was killed and many others wounded by the officers.

The entire electric light plant at Sacramento was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Twenty-four dynamos were burned and six of the most powerful engines on the Coast. The total loss aggregates $300,000.

General Goggia of the Italian army has been arrested at Monaco, charged with being a spy. He had been watching the maneuvers of the French Alpine troops, and damaging papers and documents were found on his person.

It is believed that the general amnesty granted the rebels in the Brazilian insurrection is due to the intervention of the United States in their behalf. It was made clear to Peixoto through Minister Mendonca that he would add to his triumph and gain the respect of the other powers by kind and humane treatment of the rebels.

Bland's Coinage Committee met yesterday. Representative Meyer was present and urged a favorable report on his bill to coin the seigniorage and allow the Secretary of the Treasury to issue 3-per cent bonds. The President and Carlisle, he said, sanctioned the measure. No action was taken in the matter.

The Great Northern has begun its fight against the strikers in the same manner that will doubtless hereafter be followed by all corporations in dealing with strikes. It has sued out a writ of injunction in the United States Court restraining the strikers from destroying property, obstructing traffic or interfering with other employees.

The Young Men's Club.

An interesting literary program was rendered last evening by the Young Men's Club, which held its meeting in the Court House. Seven new names were sent in, bringing the membership up to twenty-seven. After music, recitations and singing, the question: "Resolved That the Industrial Army will Accomplish Nothing at Washington," was debated, quite a number taking part.

The young men are taking a great interest in the club, which will be of great benefit to them in many ways. Mr. Maynard was the originator of the organization and is aiding the boys in many ways to make a success of it.

Changed Their Destination.

N. H. A. Mason came in last evening from Mason Valley with two carloads of horses which he was intending to ship to San Francisco. Hearing of the destruction yesterday morning of the Sacramento electric works which run the cable cars in that city and the probability of the street car lines being compelled to resort to horses for some time to come as a means of locomotion he concluded to change the destination of his consignment to that city, for which place they will leave this morning.

The Carson News says George W. Richards, who was appointed State Treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John F. Egan, filed the necessary bond of $200,000 with the following bondsmen: Jacob Klien, $10,000; T. Coffin, $25,000; T. R. Hofer, $10,000; H. M. Yerington, $25,000; S. L. Lee, $25,000; J. T. Jones, $10,000; John Elliott, $5,000; G. H. Meyers, $7,500; L. H. Bell, $7,500; Sam Longabaugh, $20,000, and Evan Williams, $25,000.

BORN.

BURNER—At Peavine, April 16, 1894, to the wife of George E. Burner a son.

STAUBER—In Belmont, Nye county, Nevada, April 8, 1894, to the wife of George F. Stauber, a daughter.

"For Years,"

Says CARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort even to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly, but for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."

AYER'S PILLS
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Every Dose Effective

KNOWLEDGE

What Professor Falb says About it. (S. F. Examiner.)

The records indicate that people have been looking for the end of the world at intervals ever since the world began, and predictions of this character generally receive very limited credence, but when a scientific man of the character of Professor Rudolph Falb, of Vienna, makes a prophecy of this sort it is at least worth thinking about. Professor Falb has a reputation all over Europe for his meteorological knowledge and particularly for his extraordinary familiarity with the habits and customs of earthquakes.

His predictions of these seismic disturbances have been remarkably fulfilled. His prediction of the great earthquake at Zante last year was published in the press dispatches all over the country the day before the earthquake occurred. Another example of his accurate foreknowledge on this subject is shown in the fact that on March 31, 1893, he wrote to the Tourist Club of Vienna accepting an invitation to lecture about earthquakes, but added that he would like to defer the lecture until after May 13, as an earthquake would occur by that time, which would aid him in giving them enlightenment. As a matter of fact an earthquake occurred April 8th, and was felt all over southern Hungary. Professor Falb's prophecies go back over a number of years, have usually been made from nine to twelve months in advance and have in almost every instance been correct.

Now, however, the professor's prophetic eye has shot across a space of five years, and he says that November 13, 1899, the erratic wanderer known to astronomers as the comet of 1866, will reappear and collide with our globe; then "the fireworks" and—darkness.

By way of preliminary to the main event, however, it may be mentioned that, according to the programme, New York is to disappear under a tidal wave next July or August, while Florida and California will probably become islands as the result of a submarine earthquake.

The most unpleasant nature about these prophecies is, as already intimated, the fact that they are not prophecies at all, strictly speaking, but scientific predictions based upon scientific investigations into mundane anatomy. To put his theories in as simple a fashion as possible, it may be said that Professor Falb believes first of all that the deep down interior of the earth is filled with a molten mass which is subject to ebb and flow just like the waters of the ocean.

Between the earth and this molten shoel, which is gradually cooling, there is only a shell of an average of eighteen miles in thickness, upon which we mortals live and love and die. In some places the earth's crust is thicker than in others. Where it is thinnest the confined, terrible forces of the under world, chiefly in the form of gas, seek constantly to escape, and when the pressure of the atmosphere around the earth is lowest the gas finds an outlet, usually in well defined districts, generally through the volcanic vent-holes.

But beyond the constant pressure of gas, Professor Falb has the theory that the sheolic molten mass beneath us is subject to the influence of the moon, which produces waves, and occasionally great tidal waves, which sweep round the inner crust of the world with terrific force, shaking the earth in its passage. Professor Falb publishes every year a list of the days on which he expects seismic convulsions. These he calls "critical days," and these days are those when the moon approaches close to the earth. The critical days given by Professor Falb for 1894 are stated in the order of maximum disturbances as follows: August 30th, September 20th, February 20th, March 21st, August 1st, April 6th, January 21st, May 5th and October 28th. Thus the most serious disturbance may be looked for August 30th, and the slightest October 28th.

In connection with the great scientific contest between mother earth and the comet which, to use a phrase current in scientific circles, is to be "pulled off" in 1899, it is recalled that January 14, 616, ten people were killed in China by the fall of a meteor. In the year 823 thirty-five villages in Saxony were destroyed by the fall of a meteor, and many men and animals were killed. September 4, 1511, one man and four animals were destroyed by falling meteors near Crema. November 4, 1794, a meteor struck the mast of a ship that was crossing the Atlantic, killing five seamen. Each of these cases may be regarded as the fall of a small comet upon our world.

It is a comfort to know that some Vienna scientists believe the comet is going to get the worst of it, and point to the fact that the comet Lexell, when it went too near to Jupiter, was thrown off its course and sent flying out of our planetary system.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Man Attempts to Ride a Brakebeam and is Run Over on Commercial Row.

Last evening about 8:30 o'clock a man attempted to swing himself under one of the cars of a westbound freight train in order to ride a brakebeam over the mountains, and was instantly killed. The accident took place at the Sierra street crossing.

His name is believed to be Edward Stenback.

He was observed about town during the day and probably came in from the East the night before in the same manner in which he was attempting to leave when the accident which ended his life occurred.

He was observed as the train was pulling out to have hold of a brake rod and attempting to swing himself under the car in order to get on the brake-beam. His coat caught under a wheel and in a few seconds he was drawn beneath the wheels and horribly mangled.

Both arms were cut off near the shoulder and his right leg was crushed near the hip. Death was almost instantaneous.

The remains were removed to Saunders' undertaking parlors where Coroner Brown made an examination of his personal effects in order to identify him. Two letters were found in his pockets, one addressed to Edward Stenback, Eaton, Colorado, from his brother Charles Stenback of Ferndale, California, and another to John H. Woodbury 125 W. 42d St., New York City. A purse containing fifteen cents in silver and three one-cent pieces, and a razor was the extent of his possessions.

He was about 27 years of age.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

President Jones Contemplates Resigning.

The State University will celebrate Arbor day Friday forenoon by the planting of a number of trees and appropriate exercises.

It is rumored that President S. A. Jones will shortly resign. The Board of Regents have been aware of President Jones' intention of leaving the University at the end of this year for some time and have been on the lookout to secure the services of as able a successor. Among those who have applied for the position are Dr. Stubbs of the Berea University, Ohio, Dr. Ewen of the Stanford University, P. C. Fernald of Dover, Maine, Dr. Bates of the Berkeley Gymnasium and E. J. McEwen of Logan, Utah.

THE VAUGHN TRIAL.

Rast Testifies in Behalf of the State and the Charges Against Him Dissolved.

At the trial of the Vaughns at Austin for the murder of the Lister boys, Nick Rast who was present at the time of the homicide, created a sensation in court when put on the witness stand for the defense. The Reveille does not give Rast's evidence, but as the charges against him were dismissed the inference is that his testimony was in favor of the prosecution. He admitted that his testimony at the Coroner's inquest and preliminary examination was mostly false, and given under fear and excitement.

The May Day Barbecue.

Everybody is talking of going to the barbecue at Laughton's Springs on May Day. There will be roast beef, roast mutton and roast pork, cooked under the supervision of Jim Burge, who has probably had more experience in roasting meats for barbecues than any other man in the State. Mr. Laughton will leave nothing undone to make it one of the most enjoyable events of the year.

Notice.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies a banquet was served which was followed by toasts, speeches and other festivities.

Saved Her Life

Surgical Operations and Best Medical Treatment Failed

An Almost Miraculous Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mollie Wendt, Chicago, Illinois.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Beginning in February, '92, I was very sick for two months. Slowly I got better but was confined to my bed. A physician said I had a Pelvic Abscess in My Side.

After an operation I did not improve, the abscess continuing to discharge even more freely than before. In two months time three operations were performed and tubes inserted to carry off the impurities, but all in vain. Finally it was decided that my life depended upon another operation and that I must be removed to the hospital. About three weeks previous to this I had noticed an advertisement in the Daily News of a case where Hood's Sarsaparilla had cured a boy somewhat similarly afflicted in Trenton, N. J., and I decided to give it a trial. When the time decided upon for me to go to the hospital arrived I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla about two weeks.

I Was Getting Better and the abscess had already begun to discharge less freely. I felt stronger and had a terrible appetite. Previous to this I had given up to eat. When I had taken the second bottle I was able to sit up and accordingly I was not taken to the hospital and the final operation was deferred. Now I have taken six bottles and the abscess has entirely healed. I am well and go every where. My friends think it is a miracle to have me restored to them again so healthy and even younger in looks than before my sickness.

I Feel Better Than Ever

I did in my life and weigh over 130 pounds, the heaviest in my life. I do a big day's work and am gaining in strength every day. My mother worried and worked herself almost sick in caring for me. She has since taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has done her much good. We praise Hood's Sarsaparilla to everybody for

I Know It Saved My Life.

I am 27 years old, and a stranger to look at me now would not think I ever had any liver sickness. Even the doctors are surprised at the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in my case. Mother and myself continue to take the medicine.
